

Do You Need A Drafting Service You Can Rely On?

In today's competitive building industry, companies need a competitive edge.

Draftech can provide you with this edge in the following ways:

- Our international experience means we work from Brisbane to Melbourne to London with the same efficiency
- Our involvement in Property Developing means we have an all encompassing view of projects and a full understanding from Acquisition to Handover
- Our accuracy and attention to detail highlights problematic areas before they reach the manufacturing and installation stages
- Prompt support throughout the contract minimises your costly delays
- By minimising designs without compromising system performance
- Our professional and courteous manner maintains an effective medium for communication and ensures the prompt resolution of problems
- Contracting drafting work eliminates the need for in-house CAD stations, which in turn saves staffing overheads and valuable office space
- By working with Draftech, you can promote the use of the latest CAD software and be in tune with any new CAD developments that benefit the building industry
- Draftech is constantly testing new systems and procedures to eliminate the effect of human error and increase efficiency
